| Description and how to apply |
|--|
| Anvil Chambers is a new Kent-based chambers based upon principles of mutual support and development of colleagues. The successful applicant will work in family, civil, and probate law and will be a part of chambers' development into the future. This is a rare opportunity to shape your career as you would like it to be in the most supportive of environments. Due to a significant increase in work, we are inviting applications for a third-six pupillage with a view, to begin immediately, though the start date is flexible. For the right candidate a second position may be available. Although small and new, Anvil has a growing reputation for the highest possible level of client service, and we have very strong working relationships with those who instruct us. There will be much personal attention from a Legal 500 recognised mentor, and our new colleague will be involved in all aspects of chambers life. As our work is primarily in and around Kent, the successful candidate will need to demonstrate a desire to work in the county. |
